Cranberry Clear

HOW IT WORKS

Cranberry Clear features an antioxidant-rich blend of ingredients including cranberry, blueberry and grapefruit seed extract to rid the urinary and gastrointestinal tracts of harmful bacteria. Cranberry Clear also contains NutraGamma, a newly introduced protein source that boosts the immune system and prevents toxins from being re-absorbed into the blood.

Cranberry Clear:

- Attacks internal bacteria during a cleanse
- Supports a healthy urinary tract
- Supports a healthy immune system
- Supports a healthy intestine
- Cleans the gastrointestinal tract

WHY YOU NEED IT

With all the chronic stresses of daily life, it's no wonder that we're always getting sick. Our immune systems face constant abuse from disease, poor eating habits and environmental factors among other things.

Cranberry Clear was designed to enhance immune function by cleansing the urinary and gastrointestinal tracts with a unique blend of powerful, infection-fighting ingredients. These ingredients include a cranberry-blueberry blend, NutraGamma, grapefruit seed extract and Vitamin C/zinc.

The antioxidant-rich blend of cranberry and blueberry binds with E. coli (a bacterium commonly found in the kidneys and bladder of those with urinary infections) to prevent it from sticking to the cells that line the insides of the kidney and bladder. More importantly, the cranberry prevents the harmful E. coli bacterium from multiplying; left unchecked, these bacteria swim into the urine and cause painful infections.

This is extremely important to know for the 11 million women who are diagnosed with urinary tract infections (many of which are recurring) each year. While this type of infection is not quite as common among men, they are certainly not immune. Instead of drinking large quantities of cranberry juice, which many find unpalatable in addition to being high in calories, you can derive cranberry's full benefit from the Cranberry Clear powdered version.

Cranberry Clear also contains NutraGamma, a substance extracted from whey protein. Rich in immunoglobulins, which enhance immune function, and cysteine, which is used in making glutathione (the strongest antioxidant produced by the body), NutraGamma is so powerful and versatile that it can work throughout the entire body.

After periods of physical activity or exercise, your body's immune system tends to become less effective temporarily. NutraGamma helps combat this temporary dip in immune function by binding with harmful bacteria found in the gastrointestinal tract to prevent them from escaping through the wall of the intestine. For those lacking strong gastrointestinal barriers and not using NutraGamma, the body is unable to prevent these harmful bacteria from escaping the intestines, so they leak into the blood. This may cause you to feel sluggish, sickly and perhaps even feverish. The dual actions of NutraGamma—binding harmful bacteria and supporting glutathione manufacturing—provide a boost to your immune system and may even lower your cholesterol level.

Grapefruit seed extract, another key component of Cranberry Clear, contains flavonoids, Vitamin C, tocopherols, and citric acid—all powerful ingredients with antibacterial, antiviral and antifungal properties. Grapefruit seed extract was incorporated into the unique Cranberry Clear formula to help kill Candida, a type of yeast known to adversely affect gastrointestinal health. In addition to grapefruit seed extract, NutraGamma and the cranberry-blueberry blend, Cranberry Clear has been enriched with extra zinc and Vitamin C, which help further reduce the risk of infection caused by Candida.
